

PRINCIPLE	COMMITMENT	SYSTEM	INITIATIVE	PERFORMANCE
Principle 2 Avoid complicity in human rights abuses	Copagaz is committed to avoiding complicity in human rights abuses in all of its branches. In order to do so, it carries out several measures to ensure the respect for the children, the environmental safety of its factories, the fair labor compensation, and the economic development as the driving force of human development.	Code of Conduct	This document sets forth the Company's ethical and behavioral standards, consolidating and updating a wide set of principles, norms and procedures that has been respected since it was founded.	All employees must sign a formal commitment instrument, stating their awareness, agreement and adhesion to the Code of Conduct.
			Respect for the Rights Copagaz's Code of Conduct deals with the issue of respecting the rights of its employees and the communities where it operates.
		Ethical Conduct Committee	Consisting of the managers from the Human Resources, Auditing and Legal areas, its goal is to centralize the issues raised by employees, customers and suppliers.	The Ethical Conduct Committee verifies and evaluates all violations of the Code of Conduct, promoting the respect for human rights.
		A Child-friendly Company	In addition to respecting and promoting human rights, Copagaz is a Child-friendly Company, according to the ABRINQ Foundation.	In 2005, it was recognized as a Child-friendly Company for the fifth year in a row.
		Abrinq Foundation Program	A partnership with the Abrinq Foundation, the program consists of transferring part of the sales revenues from Copagaz gas canisters to the Foundation for carrying out programs targeted at children and teenagers.	The estimated amount collected in a year is expected to reach R$100,000.